Comments Is your organization doing any DNA testing on platyceriums?
If so, how can I learn what you have discovered?
In cooperation with the Los Angeles International Fern Society, LAIFS, we have the web site www.Halling.com/Platyceriums/ which is the "Hobbyists Guide To Identifying Platyceriums" and recognize there is a need for better identification of the species, cultivars, and hybrids. There are too many names for what is believed to be the same plant and a better clarification is needed.
